Don't Forget To Add A Good Picture Of Yourself In This Area, Like Above!

For example. . . .

You have authored better than 15 publications over the past 2 months that are currently in syndication through your website. You began your online endeavors back in 1995 and have continued to grow your business to the immense powerhouse it is today. You have also created such services as blue widget giveaway, green widget script, and red widget software.*

I'm sure by now, you get the idea here ;-). It's also a good idea to put in a little plug for your free ezine or newsletter complete with a link to sign up. This will help your ebook become more "viral" and send more potential customers your way!

Your Rights To This Product: Place your rights here as it applies to your ebook product. Explain in detail what your readers have the right to do with your ebook. Are they awarded any Resale Rights? Or is it for Personal Use Only? If it does come with resale rights, are there any further rules such as minimum price suggestion, etc.? Be sure you clearly state these rules so that there is never any confusion for your readers!

Legal Disclaimers: This is the area to add any additional legal information that you might need to within your ebook product. Cover any further information you deem necessary so that your readers know what you are and are not liable for.

Don't leave anything out and make this section as long or as short as you need.

Chapter 1 Title

This is the main text of your document. You may want to adjust the font settings to something more suitable to your ebook needs. The font being used throughout this particular ebook template is called Myriad. And in two different styles: Myriad Pro and Myriad Pro Condensed.

Myriad Pro Condensed is what is being used for these base chapter words as you see them here. It has been set at a 13 px size. Again, this can be adjusted to your liking. You may decide to go with something a bit easier to read.

You can make adjustments to the fonts by highlighting all the text you wish to change by left clicking and dragging over the text area with your mouse, and then selecting a different font from the drop down menu on the text tool bar above in the upper left hand side.

The majority of this template has been formatted using Tables.

This is also how the header and footers are set.

To ensure that the header graphic looks correct, the two sliced images have been set as background images. You will notice that you can write over top of them easily. But you should not as it will clutter up the look of the headers.

The footer is simply a plain old .jpg image.

With a little skill and effort, you could create plenty of your own ebook template combinations.

The only thing you really need to do is remove the text here and add your own to generate your own custom PDF ebook using this template.

Instead of creating specific "template" type files for OpenOffice Writer, I left each ebook "template" as a regular .ODT file, which makes it much easier to edit the ebook template.

By doing this, you can simply double click any of the ebook template files and, if you have OpenOffice Writer installed, it will automatically open it up. Then you can begin editing the template until you get it looking just as you want it to be.

Easy!
